

Barolo D.o.c.g. 2010

Year's Best Barolo and Barbaresco - 92 points

“The Lanzavecchia family produces their Barolo from estate vineyards in Serralunga d’Alba, riding the 2010 vintage to a seemingly effortless wine. Its purity rings clear in scents of forest berries, red fruit and ironbound tannins – a remarkable amount of tannins for a wine to carry while still managing a sunny glow. It comes off as firm yet transparent enough to taste the earthiness in the wine, equal in clarity to the fruit.

This feels like it will thrive for years in the bottle”.

Wine and Spirits Magazine, December 2014 issue

Wine & Spirits